

IEMA for Consultancy (Small) Corporate Membership - Fuelling Your Journey

We want to help grow your business. As our brand grows stronger, we commit helping you to grow yours. Becoming a Corporate Member demonstrates your organisation's affiliation to IEMA, the environment and sustainability profession and to business excellence. We know this will help you demonstrate your environment and sustainability credentials to clients, which in turn will help you win and retain business.

Benefit	Details
Affiliation	The IEMA logo, presented on your documents, your website, and any tenders etc) helps demonstrate your commitment to environment and sustainability performance. We will also add your logo, company biography and link to your website from ours to help promote our partnership.
Consultancy Directory	Your consultancy will be listed in the IEMA Directory. You will feature in a full page listing in the environmentalist magazine, giving you the opportunity to gain exposure to our entire membership and wider readership. This listing will direct potential clients to the dedicated directory on IEMA's website.
Online Resources	As a Corporate Member you will be able to log into our website and access a wide range of resources, publications, webinars, and networks that will support your organisation's knowledge and skills.
Multi Membership Discount	We'd like to welcome your colleagues into our worldwide alliance of professionals so they can access all the learning, updates and connections they need to stay informed and compliant. When 5 or more of your team join us at one of the easy-to-achieve entry levels of membership - your organisation will pay just half the standard fee for each new member.
Discounts	Not only do Corporate Members get priority invitations to key events and publications, you are also entitled to further discounts of up to 20% on recruitment advertising in the environmentalist and delegate bookings at our events.

Account Manager Your IEMA Relationship Manager will be there to support you and to ensure your organisation is able to access the support and benefits it needs to reach its objectives.